CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Jack Collingsworth

Your PBID Board Members are hoping everyone is staying cool and hydrated during this hot summer. In case you missed it, the Village PBID hosted a fantastic Street Fair over Father's Day weekend in June. There were numerous vendors and merchants enjoying the weather and experiencing everything the Street Fair had to offer, including the cool car show. Don't worry if you missed it because the PBID will be putting on another Street Fair later this year. If you are looking to be a vendor, be sure to have your application submitted on time because spaces fill up quick! The Apple Valley Police Department has continued to work with the PBID Board to ensure the safety within the Village. The police department administered a sweep within the Village during the month of May to help protect consumers and businesses alike. Mark your calendars, September 29, 2018, will be the date of the Annual Happy Trails Parade put on by the Village PBID. Applications are available now on our website at www.applevalleyvillage.com. See you all there!

Town Takes First Steps in Village Accessibility Project

Commuters and residents will soon have improved access to Apple Valley's historic downtown district after the Town of Apple Valley reconstructs John Glenn Road. At the June 12 meeting, the Town Council approved a solicitation for bids to pave the street, and install curb, gutter, and sidewalk along the east side of the road.

A cooperative effort between the Town of Apple Valley and the Village Property and Business Improvement District (PBID), the Apple Valley Village Accessibility Project will allow the Town to accept the private road into the Town's street system and provide maintenance.

The PBID pledged $250,000 to pave and reconstruct the road with the Town matching $250,000 in Local Transportation Funds for curb, gutter and sidewalk - creating an ADA accessible path to Outer Highway 18 South from Navajo, along Powhatan and John Glenn Roads by the end of 2018.

"We are connecting people to services," said Mayor Art Bishop. "It will be much easier for cars and pedestrians to get to places like the Apple Valley Post Office, James Woody Community Park, the Victor Valley Transit Authority Bus Transfer Station on Quinnault Road and, of course, the Village Business District."

Business Spotlight

Hitt Plumbing

"Well, Hitt Plumbing was started in 1964 by my dad. I took over in '77 which brought in the second generation. Today, all of my kids work here...so that makes three generations. We are one of the oldest plumbing businesses in the high desert and to this day we are still the original owners.

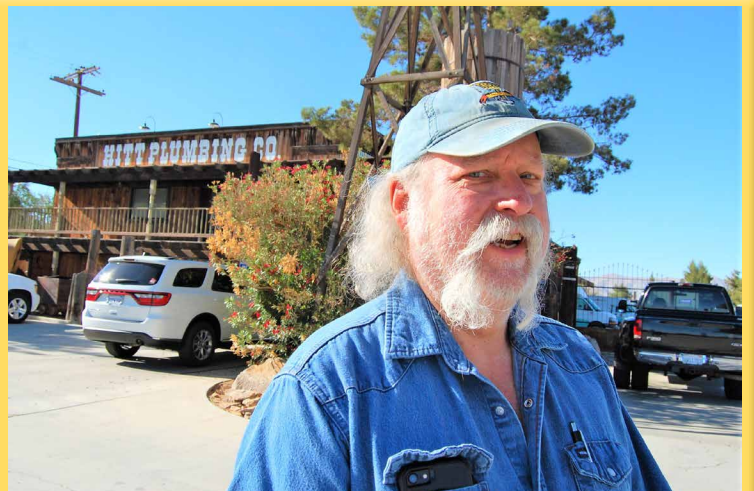

The population has gone up like crazy. In response to that, our service and repair is very strong. We do close to 30 or 40 service calls a day. Helping people, y'know?

Starting out, most of the business dealt with new construction. As the new homes aged and began requiring our services, the business really just grew from there. We have been through some pretty tough times over the years when the economy has tanked, but we're still here.

I'm very involved in the local community and events like the Village Street Fairs and Happy Trails Parade. I like to take care of the kids here in the community. Boy Scouts, the Sunset Hills Children's Foundation, Little League...if it's for the kids, that's where our money goes."
